During this first week teachers will do orientation activities with students to build trust, communication and camaraderie amongst the new class. Teachers will also assess student's academic levels and train students on how to work remotely from home. Teachers will compile students passwords, classroom expectations and will explain new onsite COVID safety measures for students.
- Teachers will use assessment, communication with parents, and prior teacher recommendations to identify the 5 students that will be identified to come back the following week for onsite instruction. If your child is selected to come onsite, it is highly recommended for you to consider your child's need in determining an onsite or online work platform. Parent decisions will be honored.
